Have your say on Taupō District Council's representation review

We are currently seeking feedback on the best way to represent our communities at the council table. It is important to have your say as the arrangements will be in place for the 2019 and 2022 elections.

Why undertake a representation review?

Like other councils, we are required to undertake a review of our current representation arrangements once every six years. This is to ensure we provide fair and effective representation for people and their communities, provide an effective voice, strengthen local democracy and help maintain confidence in local government.

We undertook some pre-consultation with the community during March and April to get some initial feedback before a preferred option was chosen. The council has now decided on an initial proposal and is calling for formal submissions.

What we need to consider

Councils always need to keep in mind the principle of fair and effective representation for individuals and communities. This requires consideration of three key factors:

- Identifying communities of interest;
- Effective representation of these communities of interest; and
- Fair representation of electors- based on the '±10 percent rule' for wards and subdivisions of community board areas, though exceptions may be approved by the Local Government Commission.

As part of this review, we must also consider whether we need community boards in order to help achieve fair and effective representation.

What is the fair representation plus or minus 10 percent rule?

The Local Government Commission's goal is to ensure there is one elected member for an equal part of the population plus or minus 10 percent. For the Taupō District this means one elected member for every 3019 to 3689 people,

What is being proposed?

At the May council meeting, it was resolved to consult with our communities on an initial proposal that meets the Local Government Commissions plus or minus 10 per cent rule.

That proposal is for Taupō District Council to have 11 councillors representing five wards. One Mayor would be elected at large to represent the whole district. The five wards would be:

Ward

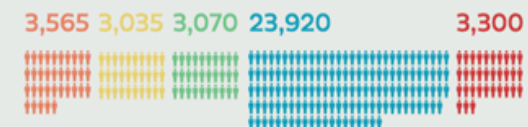

Kinloch/Oruanui

Communities of Interest

the area comprising the township of Kinloch and predominantly rural areas of Oruanui and Wairakei/Aratatia which includes Wairakei Village and Ohaaki.

Population per region

The population that each member would represent is as follows:

What about community boards?

It is proposed that there will be one community board in each ward. That community board will be:

Southeastern

Southeast Rural Ward Councillor
